Job Description

We would love to welcome an experienced Junior Interior Designer or Architectural Technologist (who is passionate about design) to join our boutique team! We offer a professional environment with a casual attitude, and are flexible in approach to schedule. Paramount qualities are a good attitude, a willingness to get the job done and accountability. We are looking for more than just a skill set - we are looking for a winning personality who thrives as part of a team and family.

Mentorship and opportunity for career growth available within. We believe that the right candidate may originate from a technical or design background, but will be passionate about both. As we are a small studio the successful candidate will be tasked with a variety of jobs changing daily, with a focus on technical production (working drawings) and design detailing. Interior design opportunities from programming through to Contract Administration will be provided and developed by senior staff. We support interns and welcome those pursuing log books, registration or licensing.

With decades of experience in a variety of sectors and project typologies, we offer varied and exciting opportunities to participate in projects including health care, office, retail, residential, and special projects. Currently we complete Federal Government projects as part of our offering, which requires a special level of dedication and attention to detail. We will require that the successful candidate complete a security clearance to assist with work on government projects.

We are passionate about our industry and studio! We are fresh and open to new ideas and opportunities. We participate in industry events and instruction in the BID program at MRU. If you are looking for an opportunity to direct your growth and be accountable for your career we would love to speak with you.

Qualifications & Skill Sets

In order to adapt to both the technical and creative roles we would consider either (minimum 1 year experience completing commercial projects):

Junior Interior designer with a degree from a CIDA accredited school who is technically proficient.

OR

Architectural Technologist with a passion for interior design who is looking to expand their skills set.

The successful candidate will:

*Be technically versed in AutoCAD, Sketchup and Adobe Suite (along with basic office programs such as Word and Excel). Experience in Revit is a bonus, but we do not currently work using this platform.

*Have keen interest and eye for design in the built environment.

*Carry yourself professionally and be able to engage with Client's in a supporting role.

*Be familiar with the Alberta Building Code and the AHJ in Calgary.

*Be a self starter with excellent organizational skills.

Participate in expressing and growing our brand through attitude and social media.

*Be able to interface with suppliers and product reps to assist with projects at all levels.

*Be kind and supportive of colleagues and industry agents.
