Job Description

Thinkspace Architecture® Planning Interior Design is a client focused design firm comprised of a team of talented architects, planners, and designers who are experts in solving complex problems. We have been providing a full range of professional architectural services since 1963 and over the years have developed a specialized expertise in institutional and public sector projects. From our offices located in Western Canada including Surrey, Kelowna, and Edmonton, we have built a significant portfolio of projects valued at up to $200 million. Our extensive design experience primarily focuses on Education, Post-Secondary, Healthcare, Civic, and Commercial sectors. We are committed to quality design and approach our work with a common set of values: Curiosity, Collaboration, Commitment, Client Focused and Accountability. These shared values influence how we approach our work and how we rise to the unique challenges that each new project brings.

We currently have an opening in our Surrey office for an Intermediate-Senior level Technologist to assist with design, construction document production and coordination.

Qualifications & Skill Sets

Candidates must present comprehensive and well-rounded qualifications, including:

- experience drafting detailed drawings for all delivery phases
- thorough understanding of construction detailing, working drawings and contract administration
- experience with building envelope systems, preferably for institutional projects
- well-versed in local building codes and construction methods
- proficient technical abilities in Revit and AutoCAD

What you need to be successful in the role:

- Degree or diploma in Architectural and Building Technology from an accredited institution
- 7-10+ years of progressive and relevant experience in Canada
- Solid communication skills, and enjoys working in a highly collaborative environment
- Self motivated with an inquisitive technical aptitude and design sense
- Project Management/Coordination experience is required
- Alignment with our core values: Curious, Client-Focused, Collaborative, Committed and Accountable
